Your Wedding date... It will live long in memory as one of the most important days in your life. You were probably very careful in choosing the right day. The modern method of choosing the date is based on practical things. Not so in ancient China.

The Chinese used to consult an astrologer for the proper time to tie the Wedding Knot. But the astrologer, according to historians, could be swayed to change his mind. As a matter of fact, an impatient groom could cross the great year's palm with silver and name his own date.

Wedding dates, in these modern times are carefully planned by the Bride and Groom. Just one of the many problems to be worked out and planned for in careful detail.

When you plan for your Silver, Silver and Crystal, be sure to register your selection with Hudson's. You'll be thrilled at the wide variety of patterns which we have available. Your friends and relatives also will be pleased that you have registered your choices with us. It will make their gift selection so much easier.

AUTUMN WEDDING of the former Miss Helen Tindall, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Tindall, 4110 Kirkpatrick Homes and Airman First Class Thomas Cholevik took place at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bohnenstiel of Granite City.

St. Elizabeth Scene of Cholevik-Tindall Wedding

An afternoon wedding ceremony at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church on Oct. 23 united in marriage Miss Helen Tindall and Airman First Class Thomas Cholevik.

The Rev. Lawrence Mattingly officiated at the 1 o'clock double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with arrangements of white flowers. A reception was held afterward at the American Legion Hall in Granite City.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Tindall, 4110 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bohnenstiel, 2425 Ponton Road.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white velvet fashioned with an Empire bodice, a high neckline and long full sleeves with buttoned cuffs. Motifs of Venice lace formed a yoke and encircled the waistline and were repeated on the skirt and the chapel length train.

A forward headpiece secured a triple-tiered veil of bridal illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations encircled with daisies.

The honor attendant, Miss Pam Thomas, and bridesmaids, Miss Diane Meredith and Miss Pat Hendrix, were gowned alike in chiffon and velvet ensembles. A formal length skirt of brown chiffon with a floral trim was worn over brown velvet hot pants. The bridesmaids were created of chiffon with a floral suspended effect, and on their hair they wore colored picture hats. They carried bouquets of pom poms and daisies in autumn shades.

Jim Becker served the groom as best man with Tom Niebur, Gary Willis and Joe Bohnenstiel, a brother of the bridegroom, as groomsmen and ushers.

Airman and Mrs. Cholevik are graduates of Granite City High School. After a wedding trip to Springfield, Ill., they returned to Granite City to prepare to move to England where the groom will be stationed with the Air Force. He will depart for the overseas base Nov. 18. His wife will join him there at a later date.

Grid Trojans Outscored 52-6 at Lutheran North

After a couple of successful outings the last three weeks the gridiron Trojans of Madison High School were conquered 52-6 by Lutheran North in St. Louis Saturday afternoon.

Coach Al Vonder Haar's Madison athletes now are 2-5 for the season while the Crusaders of Lutheran North are 3-4-1.

The host team's offensive pyrotechnics were set off by a large number of individuals, with the most on-the-ground damage done by Gary Mantel, a 170-pound senior halfback who tallied two first-quarter touchdowns. He went across on a one-yard run and then a 22-yard scamper.

A run failed after the first TD but Don Kinkeade, a flanker, took a pass from Quarterback Paul Kummer after the second touchdown for a two-point play and a 14-0 lead.

In the second period, Gus Mueller, 5-10, 170-pound Madison back, started 39 yards to Tight End Chris Stanley, a six-footer, 200-pound sophomore, and the Trojans were on the scoreboard with six points.

A run afterward was unsuccessful and the score remained 14-0 until Kummer scored on a five-yard pass. Dennis Kinkeade then hauled in a Kummer pass for a two-point play and the 22-0 score held until half-time.

The Crusader quarterback had been an uncertain starter due to a collarbone injury suffered in the opening game of the season. Larry Thompson had been handling the quarterbacking duties but Kummer was back in uniform and back in action, helping jell the Lutheran offense.

Kummer passed 29 yards to Terry Fluri for six points and then tossed to Elroy Glenn for two points early in the third quarter. Glenn a short time later plunged across the goal line for a one-yard touchdown run and Kenneth Ray ran for the points-after-TD and a 38-6 score.

In the fourth period, Ray tallied on a one-yard touchdown run and also ran across afterward to boost the Crusader lead to 46-6.

Thompson got in on the quarterbacking in the late going and threw a ten-yard TD pass to John Bottbrink. A run for another two-point play failed.

Final Madison football game of 1971 is set for 2 p.m. this Saturday, at the MHS gridiron against Bethalto.

Mitchell Basketball Registration Tuesday

The first of two registration sessions for Mitchell Khoury League basketball will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Mitchell School gymnasium. Men interested in coaching a team in the league also are being urged to attend.

The second registration session, for boys unable to attend tomorrow's session, will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Friday at the school.

Benefit Cage Game Nov. 19 Will Aid Blind Girl, Madison Family

A benefit basketball game to aid the Wilma Chestnut Fund and also the family of Bertha Govan, a 10-year-old Eagle Park girl who died last week in a freak accident, is planned for 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 19, in the gymnasium of Venice High School.

The contest, matching a team of Venice High School alumni against the Continental Can Co. team of St. Louis, is to be sponsored by the Young Black Citizens Social Club of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area.

Tickets priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, may be purchased in advance from the club members, several of whom live in Venice, or at the door before game time Nov. 19, a club official said. Permission to stage the benefit was given last week by the Venice Board of Education.

Wilma Chestnut, a young St. Louis girl, was tragically blinded by an attacker last month after she was robbed; the blinding was an attempt to prevent her from identifying a theft sus-

New Diamond for Baseball Cougars

The 1972 SIU-SW baseball team will play on a new diamond and park next spring, Harry Gallatin, SIU-SW athletic director, has announced.

Gallatin said construction of the new field, which will be located at the corner of Poag and Bluff Roads on the 2,600-acre campus, was started last summer and should be finished in time for the 1972 season of Coach Roy E. Lee's Cougars.

Gallatin said the infield will feature a district change in the playing surface. "We are going to use a material called Turface underneath the top layer on the infield," Gallatin said. He pointed out that Turface is an absorbing material that "will dry and drain the infield easier and faster."

"It is considered a better material and method than using tile underneath the playing surface. With the usual spring rains in this area, we should be able to reduce the number of rained-out games, which always put a strain on a team's pitching staff," Gallatin explained.

Coach Lee's baseball team has qualified for the past two NCAA college division post-season tournaments.

Spines Tingle as Soccer Cougars Tripped 2-1 by Bills

"We played good enough to win," said Coach Bob Gueller after his Southern Illinois University-Southwestern soccer team had dropped a surprising 2-1 game to St. Louis University Saturday afternoon before nearly 8,000 frenzied fans at the Bill's stadium, Muehlebach Field.

"We'll get another chance at them this season," Gueller said, "and it should be our turn to get that lucky break." The veteran Gueller was referring to the odds-on probability that No. 1 ranked St. Louis U. will be ranked first in the Midwest National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament and the fifth-ranked SIU-SW Cougars will not doubt be tabbed the second ranked team in the same region. Four teams will vie for the Midwest tournament title.

A St. Louis U. fan was overheard to growl right after the game. "It might have been better for us to have lost this one," the Cougars said. "I don't think we can beat them three times straight."

He added: "I saw that 2-1 game we took from SIU-SW in the Midwest finals last year at Edwardsville and we had to get two big breaks to pull out in the last 10 seconds. And now this one today." He shrugged his shoulders worriedly as he and his friends walked across the chopped p. dusty and battle-scarred playing field.

Brutal Game
It was a brutally physical game from the get-go. The whistle and the tone was set almost immediately when the Bills' Mark Demling smacked the Cougars' (5-4) John "Dino" Deinoski and sent him sprawling. SIU-SW's center halfback, Vince Fassi, retaliated almost instantly by blasting Demling.

The rough stuff continued all through the contest, but it was mostly caused by the importance of the game's outcome and the tension generated through the squads. The foul tells for each team tells the story: St. Louis U. forced to battle for possession of the ball after SIU-SW had taken a second period 1-0 lead, was charged with 25 fouls and the Cougars were called for 17. SIU-SW's score came at 10:25 into the second period on a beautiful play. Tom Twilman, the Cougars' sensational sophomore outside right, took a pass in the right hand corner of the field and, with his back to the goal, kicked the ball over his head to John Carezza in front of the nets and Big John "head" in the ball past the Bills' Al Steck.

Cougars Dominate Play
The game's first eight minutes, offensively, were dominated wholly all St. Louis as the Cougars fought off five determined scoring efforts by the Bills while they tried to adapt their play to the almost bald Muehlebach Field. From that point on, however, through the remainder of the first period, all of the second and the 22 minutes of the third quarter, SIU-SW dominated play.

SIU-SW's game domination continued into the fourth quarter until just 7:13 remained on the clock. At that point, Bill sophomore scoring star, Dan Counce, pounced on a loose ball well out from the Cougar goal and fired wildly to deadlock the game, 1-1. From that point on it became a wildy scrambling contest for both teams. The Bills got the break when Mike Seery fired a shot from 45 yards out and caught the Cougars' goaltender, Rick Benben, too far out in front (where he should have been), for the winning goal. St. Louis University's scrambling game had paid off.

Two Big Chances
SIU-SW had two big chances to ice the game earlier. Tommie Howe, on a break-away, lofted his kick a little too much, and Chris Carezza was just a little wide on an open net. But, it took a great "save" by Benben to stop a scoring effort by the Bills' Jim Draube early in the contest.

Cougar students and fans, including President John D. Rendleman, were out in large numbers, filling to overflowing the center section of bleacher seats on the west side of the field. St. Louis followers, as is their custom, lined every available inch of space around the field. 10 to 15 deep in most areas. Before the game started, Rendleman was offered, and accepted, a seat on the Cougar bench.

Said one SIU-SW student, who had just viewed his first soccer game, "Now I can understand why the South American and European soccer fans go berserk. It's an emotional game, ain't it?" he almost shouted.

Two Equal Teams
If one is totally dispassionate about Saturday's game there could be only one judgment: rarely does sports come up with two more equal teams as this year's editions of the St. City Bills and SIU-SW Cougars.

The game statistics bear out this observation. Shots-on-goal: SIU-SW 17, SLU 21; corner kicks: SIU-SW 3, SLU 4; fouls: SIU-SW 17, SLU 25. St. Louis University has one more game left. The Bills travel to the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle, next week, while the Cougars will close out their regular season at home this Saturday with the University of South Florida. The Bills beat South Florida at Tampa, 4-1, there.

Then comes the Midwest NCAA regional tournament.

The Mitchell A.C. teams were the winners in the third and fourth grade Ron Hall League and in the seventh grade Joe Robb League while the Elks earned the championship and the playoff crown in the fifth and sixth grade Ken Gray League.

The younger Mitchell A. C. team, which had an 8-0 record in regular play, earned the playoff title by defeating Salt's Fish 'N' Chips (6-2) in the final round 19-13.

In the Joe Robb League, the Mitchell A. C. squad (7-0) soundly defeated Champion's Stars (6-1) 20-7 to earn the playoff crown. The Ken Gray League champion Elks (7-0) blanked Mitchell A. C. (5-2) 24-0 in the playoff final in that league.

The first place team in each league met the fourth place squad and the second and third place teams were paired for the first round of playoffs on Saturday. The winners of those games met for the playoff Championship Sunday.

Saturday's action in the Ron Hall League pitted Mitchell A. C. against the Saints (2-7) while Fish 'N' Chips met L & W Movers (4-4). Mitchell A. C. won 20-0 and Fish 'N' Chips advanced with a 25-0 score.

In the Ken Gray League the Elks faced the Chargers (4-3) and advanced 26-7, while the Falcons (5-1) met Mitchell A. C. in the only upset of the series. The third-place Mitchell soundly dumped the second-place Falcons 19 to 18 to advance to the final round.

Hartman Fund at $1,002; Donations Still Needed

Trains at Great Lakes

Navy Seaman Apprentice Thomas W. Cardwell, son of Kenneth B. Cardwell of 3263 Edgewood Drive, has graduated from basic training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill. He is a 1971 graduate of Granite City High School.

A benefit fund to aid the family of Kenneth Hartman, 15, who was injured fatally when struck by a hit-and-run vehicle Aug. 28, currently stands at $1,002.79, Sister Cornelia, one of the fund organizers, reported today.

Contributions still are needed to help the Hartman family defray medical and funeral expenses amounting to several thousand dollars. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartman, 4015 Pontoon Road, parents of the youthful traffic victim, have six other teenage children.

Most contributions, so far received, have come from individual donors in amounts ranging from a few cents to $5. Annville Post 51, and Auxiliary, which initiated the fund-raising drive, each contributed a more substantial donation.

Donations also have been made by residents of St. Louis, Alton and Wood River areas who heard about the family's plight, Sister Cornelia said.

Kenneth was walking in the 3000 block of Pontoon Road when a westbound auto struck him from the rear throwing the youth about 25 feet. The auto, described by witnesses as a red 1969 or 1970 Chevrolet, was driven away. The motorist still is being sought.

For four days after the accident, a team of highly specialized physicians attempted to save the boy's life, utilizing a kidney machine to aid his severely damaged kidneys.

Thirty-five units of blood were administered in an effort to halt internal and external bleeding, but all measures failed and Kenneth died Sept. 1 in the Intensive Care Unit at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Hospital bills for the extensive treatment amounted to several thousand dollars. The family had no insurance and is unable to pay the bills without help from outside sources.

Contributions to the appeal may be mailed to: The Kenneth Hartman Fund, c/o Sister Cornelia, St. Elizabeth's Convent, 2300 Pontoon Road; or Sister Cornelia, c/o the Pontoon Beach Police Department, 3928 Lake Drive. Checks are to be made payable to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartman, Sister Cornelia advised.

A tip on cutting
your heating costs:

A LITTLE CLEANING SAVES A LOT OF MONEY

It's worth a little effort to keep all elements of your heating system clean. You'll save on fuel bills and enjoy safe, trouble-free heating. Here are a few checkpoints...

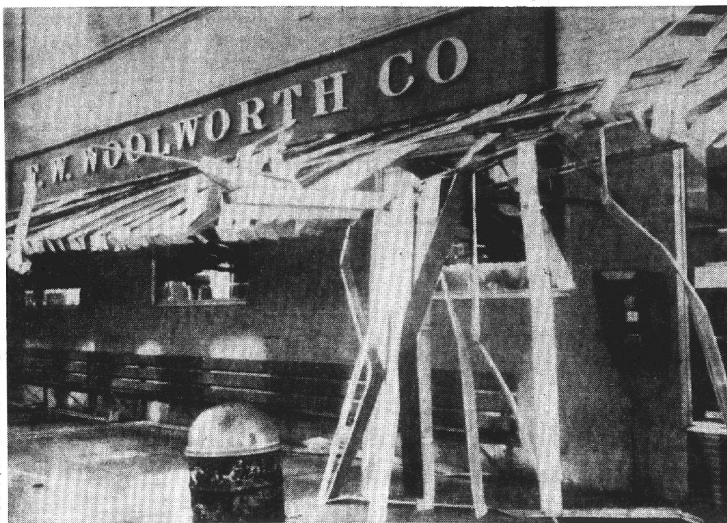

1. With a circulating warm air furnace, clean the heat exchangers and burners.
2. Clean or replace furnace filters frequently.
3. Clean lint regularly from hot water or steam radiators.
4. Flush the low water cut-off of a steam boiler once a week until water runs clear.
5. Clean lint and other debris from registers or electric heat baseboard panels.
6. Blowers and blower motors should be cleaned and oiled sparingly at regular intervals. Make sure the blower belt is tight and not worn.
7. Make sure the chimney is free of any debris. Check the chimney by placing a lighted match under the diverter, at the connection of the furnace exhaust pipe. If the flame blows out or downward, shut off the furnace until the chimney is cleaned.

In addition, make these checks to increase heating efficiency...

8. Weatherstrip all doors and windows to prevent heat loss.
9. Storm sash and storm doors save money on fuel bills. Or cover doors and windows with clear plastic.
10. You can be comfortable at lower temperatures by raising the humidity. Use an electric humidifier or water containers on registers or radiators.
11. Thermostat should be on an inside wall, away from sources of heat such as registers or lamps.

Sign, Implied Consent Law Needed To Avoid Loss of Federal Road Aid

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

Springfield—Illinois could get additional federal highway funds if the Senate approves a bill which already has been passed in the House dealing with billboards and signs along the state's interstates and primary highways.

The bill seeks to regulate the placement of signs and billboards along the highways. Public Works Department Director William F. Cellini has pointed out that such a law is necessary in Illinois to make it conform with the federal regulations.

Recently U. S. Transportation Secretary John Volpe told state officials that unless Illinois has such a law by Dec. 1 the state would be penalized in the form of holding up federal highway funds.

If the funds were to be held up it would mean the state could lose in the neighborhood of $30 million.

Rep. C. L. McCormick, R-Vienna, chief sponsor of the measure, is hopeful the Senate will act on the legislation quickly. He has indicated that a lengthy hearing on the bill could stall it for several days. There are indications that the General Assembly will be in session for another week or 10 days.

Under provisions of the bill, the Public Works Department would be able to control the placing of signs within 200 yards of the highway right-of-way. However, counties and municipalities that have effective zoning ordinances would still remain in control of the area.

It also provides that the signs must give information about lodging, food services, and automotive services within a 12-mile area.

Also awaiting action in the legislature is a bill that would give Illinois an "implied consent" law.

Under provisions of the legislation a driver who accepts an Illinois driver's license in effect is granting law enforcement officials the right to stop him while he is driving to take a breath test for alcoholic content.

The bill has passed the Senate and has been held up by committees. But final action by the General Assembly is expected before the fall session is adjourned.

Federal officials say Illinois is the only state which does not have such a law on the books. The federal officials say that if Illinois doesn't get such a law, $40 million in federal highway funds will be held up.

Status of Pollution Grant in Question

City officials are awaiting final word on the status of a federal grant to fund a full time air pollution control department in Granite City, although the grant application was approved by the Environmental Protection Agency and was to have become effective this week.

Mayor Donald Partney contacted Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) last week on the status of the grant, but no confirmation has been received, the mayor stated.

The present Air Pollution Control Board is interviewing engineering school graduates for the position of full-time air pollution control officer, to be hired when the funds are received. Applicants may contact Marge Hall at Granite City Hall for further information.

Suicide Prevention Service Would Be of Great Value to Quad-Cities

To the Editor:
In view of the fact that the 706 Mental Health Board continues to withhold funds for further development of a suicide prevention service in Madison County, I cannot help but wonder if many of our people really know what it is all about.

Although I had heard of various suicide prevention services for a number of years, it was only after I became a volunteer worker with the group in Belleville that I gained any first-hand information on what is actually done.

As for me, I am a retired man with no political or job ambitions whatever.

I receive no pay, not even any transportation allowance for attending the bi-monthly meetings. These meetings are a continuation of the training that we were required to start before any calls were referred to us.

We do help prevent suicides, but the prevention of suicides is only a small part of the work that we do.

Much of the training is directed toward enabling us to recognize and to deal with mentally and psychologically disturbed people.

We do not try to treat people but we do try to get them to the kind of help that they need, and usually do.

It is a cold and disturbing fact that none of us know as much as we should or would like to know about a host of mental illness, but we are learning and we are making progress.

To have a group in our community that is willing to give the time and effort toward learning to deal with mentally disturbed people is in itself worth a great deal of consideration.

To look mentally disturbed people up in an institution is often cruel. And, in the overall picture, it has been very non-productive and terribly expensive.

We do need more people in the community who know how to deal with mental disorders.

It has been estimated by authoritative sources that depressive illness alone causes more suffering than all other ailments to which mankind is subjected.

According to statistics, it will take to at least 17% of our population at some time during the life span. That is slightly more than one in six. When that is applied to the entire population, it gets terribly close to every home in the land.

Depressive illness is the monster that gnaws away at the will to live, that wrecks homes, that drives people to alcohol and drugs and—in the more severe cases—to suicide.

It is a stubborn and elusive enemy. And even though some do sweat it out and recover without help, it sometimes takes many months or even years.

Fortunately, depressive illness is a kind of mental or emotional disorder that we can do a great deal about. But it is not a job for the charlatan or the religious fanatic.

In fact, the last suicide attempt that I have dealt with was by a young mother who had been taking counsel from religious fanatics.

STATE FAILING TO MEET NEEDS OF ITS CITIZENS

To the Editor:

I have undertaken a flying trip of Illinois primarily to say "thank you" to the people for their kindness, hospitality and friendliness on my walk of Illinois.

Someone calculated that I took more than two million steps in the 115 days and 1,197 miles. Each step was made easier by the friendly waves and the encouraging words I received from people everywhere along the way.

The reason for that encouragement, I am sure, was not me, but the fact that citizens all over this state feel a need for a new approach—that government is not working for them.

They are sick and tired of politicians taking care of themselves first. They want government for the people—not the politicians.

People are sick and tired of corruption. Corruption has become a way of life in Illinois politics. People want an end to it. And they are not going to allow it to be swept under the rug.

In Springfield, the legislature is trying to do just that. Legislators, for example, just voted to make it perfectly okay for public officials to be on two public payrolls.

The emasculation of the ethics bill is in process right now in Springfield, where it is being watered down. They haven't heard the people yet, but I have. And when election day comes they, too, will hear.

People everywhere talk about the unfair tax burden. They don't object to paying their fair share, but they say they were double-crossed on the personal property tax—and they are right.

People are also getting the message that it is the machine system of politics that stands between them and a fair shake from government.

The walk has reinforced some things I have felt for a long time:

1. People are good. They expect no special favors. Fair, honest treatment is what they want.

2. Politicians the length and breadth of this state are cynically stirring animosities and divisions by appealing to divisiveness.

3. Despite the wealth of this state, the needs of the people—

Madison County Certain to Have One of Its Residents on November '72 Governor Ballot

The Press-Record's state capital bureau, the Copy News Service in Springfield, reported it weeks ago. Other agencies, bureaus and columnists clinked on the bandwagon in late October and early November. Their almost unanimous conclusion is that Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon of Troy will be the Democratic standard bearer for governor to oppose Republican Richard B. Ogilvie when the latter seeks re-election in 1972.

There is the formality of the spring primary election, of course. Dan Walker, the walking candidate, will make the race regardless of who gets the state-makers' nod.

But despite indications that Mr. Walker has made measurable inroads in his quest for public support, the primary is certain to be won by Lt. Gov. Simon if he runs and if Chicago Mayor Richard Daley and the Daley friends endorse him. Maybe even if Mr. Simon runs, period, regardless of what the slatemakers do.

Nobody is suggesting even at this late date that the lieutenant governor is really the top choice of the Chicago mayor. No one is known to prefer in the Executive Mansion a more pliable individual, one who could be counted on to do his bidding without much hesitation or doubt or obstinance. Mr. Simon made his mark as his own man and, as governor, no doubt would listen to reasonable suggestions but not dictation.

What is being said is that Mayor Daley has yielded to the inevitable and passed the word that Simon will be standing during the party meetings held this month.

What with Mr. Walker walking, and what with some charges of corruption to be answered or obscured, and what with the real possibility that the lieutenant governor could win a three-way primary, and what with the belief that Gov. Ogilvie could be beaten by a strong ticket, and what with the real prospect of a Democratic near-sweep, the mayor has decided not to try to force Thomas Foran or George Dunlap or some other Cook County contender into the gubernatorial slot.

Foran probably will try for attorney general, with popular State Auditor Michael Howlett running for secretary of state.

Mr. Simon will owe much to the Illinois AFL-CIO for adding weight and momentum to his drive to gain slating. The state labor group traditionally has waited until after the primary balloting to announce its support of a Democrat for governor, but in this case it flatly endorsed the lieutenant governor well in advance.

Can a Madison County resident win? Downstairs usually have had little success in trying for the position of governor but few who have tried have been as formidable vote-getters as the present lieutenant governor.

Even taking the various poll results with a grain of salt, it seems clear that Paul Simon enjoys high standing with Illinoisans of all ages, all occupations and all geographic distribution.

It should be an interesting election year, particularly with both national tickets also regarding the Illinois electoral votes as essential to them.

Latest Boysie Oakes Book Another Satire on Secret Agent James Bond

AIR APPARENT; by John Gardner; G. P. Putnam's Sons; 222 pages; $5.95.

Reviewed by ALFRED JACOBY
Copy News Service

At least when Sherlock Holmes retired he got to go to Sussex and raise bees. And in comparison to a cowboy, too, if we are to believe Dr. Watson.

Not so Boysie Oakes. Boysie is retired now, too, getting a bit lardy at the middle and graying at the temples, and hardly the man he was.

Or, really, the man he wasn't—even though everyone thought he was at the Bureau, and, more lately, at the private security group founded by his old head, which had failed.

Boysie, the professional killer, he was considered. The feeble, ineffectual, working only in Line of Duty, always.

The true Boysie, as readers of the previous six Boysie Oakes comedy-adventures know, hates killings and fears guns and is terrified of flying.

That's just one of the little secrets of espionage, don't you know?

Boysie, now retired and down on his luck, suddenly finds himself again in the clutches of Mostyn, the old superior.

Time it's some part of con game, Mostyn tells Boysie, in which he'll just have to run non-scheduled air and smile at the birds who will be both salesgirls and hostesses.

That's all, Poor Boysie. He takes the job, knowing all along that trouble lurks aback the route of Air Apparent, his airline.

It hardly need be said that Mostyn has other and more sinister purposes and that Boysie will end up as a pawns, flying, killing, handling a gun.

And hardly understanding the outcome until it comes to him. And in this case the outcome involves gunrunning, an African national revolt, Her Majesty's Government, and Boysie's raised questions about his father's career as a spy and his death a generation before.

The birds are nice. Mostyn wants them called Alida, Alma and Ada, for no special reason, and they immediately set up the target for the night—Boysie.

This newest Boysie Oakes adventure is like its forerunners. It's supposed to be heavily laced with satire on the likes of James Bond, and is.

But, as always, author John Gardner manages to make the story just interesting and exciting enough to take the reader beyond pure comedy.

Teenage Marriages in Illinois Are Strictly Regulated by Law

Tri-City and Illinois Bar Association

Romeo and Juliet might have found true-love through love at first sight. But Illinois law provides for a more realistic and thorough approach to the subject before sanctioning the marriage for the younger generation.

The law requires males to be at least 18 before they can legally tie the knot. Males of 18 or more years and females of 16 or more years must have the consent of a parent or guardian.

The impending birth of a child results in additional age restrictions. Males of 16 or more years and females of 15 or more can file a written petition to the court order for their marriage; however, it is up to the court to determine whether the marriage should take place.

Under the law, the court's approval might be based on these findings: That the female is pregnant or has already given birth to a child along with her oath that her intended husband is the father; that the male has acknowledged that he is the father of the child; that the marriage has the approval of the parents or guardians.

Aside from these facts, the court must also determine whether the parties are entering into the marriage in good faith and intend to live together as husband and wife, and are not marrying solely for the purpose of legitimizing the child.

An underage resident of Illinois who enters into marriage in this state or elsewhere has a marriage which could be voided at a later date. In such a marriage, the minor can annul the marriage only upon reaching the age of consent. The marriage can also be ratified upon attaining the age of consent.

The main imports were finished cottons, wools, coffee, and sugar.

The national debt in 1821 was $98,987,426.66.

1871-At this period, Joseph Jefferson, Philadelphia-born and well established as an actor, was appearing regularly in New York and elsewhere in one of his main plays, "Rip Van Winkle," written to his order by Dion Boucicault, Irish-born actor-playwright (1822-1890).

His story by Washington Irving (1783-1859) A professional actor since childhood, Jefferson also had studied his art in Europe.

He had opened the "Rip Van Winkle" performance at the Adelphi Theater in London in 1865, to great success, and in New York in 1866.

It became the most successful play in his repertory, and he appeared in the role frequently to the time of his death in 1905.

Edward Eggleston's novel of the middle border, "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," was a best-seller at this time, with a half million copies sold.

Times That Try Men's Souls...

By MICHAEL J. HOWLETT
State Auditor of Public Accounts

A renewal of confidence in the American system is essential. Trying times, such as today, demand a strengthening of love of country.

Thomas Paine said: "These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldiers and the sunshine patriots will in this crisis shrink from the service of their country."

In 1971, we are being tried anew. There is a lack of public confidence. Distrust of our country's leaders has been

A group called the Commerce Clearing House, which compiles legal reports and financial information from around the nation, has released tax data for Illinois and all other states, showing the increases and general standing.

National Youth Symposium Sponsored by SIU-SW Opens

The Delinquency Study and Development Center of SIU-SW is sponsoring a national symposium on "Alternatives to Incarceration of Youth" in Hot Springs, Ark., from yesterday through Wednesday.

Robert S. Gilland, director of the SIU-SW Center, said this is the first of a series of symposiums — featuring national leaders in the field of youth corrections seeking possible alternatives to the present policy of "locking delinquent children up."

Ray M. Biggs, executive director of the Arkansas Commission on Crime and Law Enforcement, Thomas Ellsworth, mayor of Hot Springs, and Dale Bumpers, governor of Arkansas, will speak.

President John S. Rendleman of SIU-SW will deliver a keynote address. More than 300 delegates from Arkansas and throughout the country are attending.

The first session involves discussion of "Youth Service Bureau." Prof. Charles V. Matthews, director of the Carbondale Crime Center, and Ted Rubin, director of the Juvenile Justice Institute for Court Management at the University of Denver Law Center, are the consultants.

Guy Revel, bureau chief, Field Services Division of Youth Services for the State of Florida, and Joseph R. Rowan, executive director of John Howard Association in Chicago, will discuss the "Expanded Use of Probation."

The third section of the symposium will deal with "Foster and Group Care Homes." Jack Donahue, regional director of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, Archie L. Gindoff, district judge of the Juvenile Court in St. Paul, Minn., and E. Kent Hayes, executive director, Inc. of Topeka, Kans., will serve as consultants.

Directing discussions concerning volunteers in corrections will be Prof. James Jorgensen of the Graduate School of Social Work at Denver University and Keith J. Leebauer, president and executive director of Volunteers in Probation, Inc., Royal Oak, Mich.

Prepare Recommendations
Following all presentations by the consultants, the delegates will be involved in small groups to discuss the topic and make recommendations.

Panelists formed from the small groups will then make their findings known to the entire group at a general session on Wednesday.

Future directions for alternatives in Arkansas and the development of national task forces for other states to deal with the problem will be discussed.

Steel Production Up But Below 1970 Rate

After hitting its lowest point in a dozen years, domestic raw steel production rose in September. However, output still continued to lag behind its 1970 rate.

According to American Iron and Steel Institute, U. S. mills poured 7,678,000 tons of new steel during September. This was an improvement over August's 6,774,000 tons output—the industry's lowest production total since a 116-day steel strike in 1959.

Even so, September's performance was far below the 10,727,000 tons produced during the same month last year. The lag was attributed to continued summer work-off of inventories built up in anticipation of a possible strike when a three-year labor contract expired July 31. Agreement on a new pact was reached without a work stoppage.

During the first nine months of this year, domestic steel production totaled 95,163,000 tons—more than five million tons less than the 100,182,000 tons poured in U. S. mills during the comparable period of 1970.

Basic oxygen furnaces continued to increase their dominance during September. They made 4,408,000 tons of the month's steel—and 49,563,000 tons of all steel produced in the open first nine months of 1971. Open hearths produced 1,889,000 tons in September and 25,586,000 tons in the first three quarters.

Electric furnaces output reached 1,461,000 tons in September, and 16,004,000 tons during the first nine months of 1971.

ASIS's steelmaking index, based on average 1967 production as 100, stood at 73.4 for September of this year. That compares with an index of 33.4 for August and 92.0 for July.

The Speakers Series programs, open to the public, are presented annually by the Laymen's Foundation in an effort to bring to the metropolitan St. Louis area the finest speakers and authorities in their respective fields. The program usually consists of a dinner, a talk by the guest speaker and then a question and answer period. Season or single program tickets are available.

For reservations, or for information about the Speakers Series programs, Quad-Cityans may write or call the Laymen's Foundation, Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, Belleville, Ill. 62223—phone 233-2238.

Taxpayers to Hear Member Of County Building Board

Concerned Taxpayers of Madison County will hear William Flippo, member of the County Public Building Commission, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the new Vital Services Building in East Alton.

Flippo, a native Altonian, will discuss the Building Commission, outlining why it was formed, the powers of the commission, the restraints on it, and its purpose and goals. A much-talked-about building to house the county's voting machines also will be discussed.

Flippo, an architect, is president of the Southern Illinois Chapter of the American Institute of Architects. His firm, Flippo & Kampwerth, recently received an honor award for supergraphics on the design of a new bank.

Mrs. Carol Frederick, chairman of the Concerned Taxpayers, is inviting the public to attend. She notes that the commission can issue bonds without public referendum to effect necessary public buildings in Madison County.

Future meetings of the CTCMC will feature candidates for the 29 seats on the County Board of Supervisors in the newly re-districted county.

The CTCMC, Mrs. Frederick explains, is an independent, non-partisan effort to bring about constructive change and revitalize the administration of Madison County government. It seeks members from all areas of Madison County.

"The next meeting of the County Board of Supervisors will be Wednesday, Nov. 17, at 9:30 a.m. in the basement of the county courthouse. The 1972 budget for Madison County will be presented for adoption by the board at this meeting. We urge citizens to attend and learn how their tax monies are spent," Mrs. Frederick told the Press-Record.

Effect of Sludge On Crops Studied

By JOAN MURARO
Capitol News Service
SPRINGFIELD — Continuation and expansion of a study on using sewage sludge as a fertilizer in Illinois is being held up, pending distribution of $750,000 in federal funding which has been approved but not delivered.

Michael Schneiderman, director of the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality, said the $750,000 was approved to finance for an additional three years a study which has already been going on for four years. The institute will contribute $100,000 over the three-year period.

Schneiderman said that at the Institute's insistence, a toxicologist or other medical expert will be added to the staff analyzing the experimental program of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago, under which Chicago waste is being used as fertilizer in selected areas, chiefly in Fulton County.

Schneiderman said the Institute staff has been concerned that no study has been made to determine the amounts of heavy metals being absorbed by crops fertilized with the sludge, or to determine if pollution of nearby areas is resulting.

Extensive tests have been made at a test site at Elwood, near Joliet, but the Institute wants to see more testing done on the actual site, he said.

The Institute was established under the state's environmental protection act of 1970 to "investigate practical problems and implement studies and programs relating to the technology and administration of environmental protection . . . as well as to obtain, store and process data, and make recommendations for changes and developments relating to environmental quality."

Between July 1, 1970, and October 1, 1971, the Institute headed a total of 61 projects, involving air and water pollution, noise, solid waste disposal, radiation and environmental planning—as well as correlating state agencies' services and establishing resource groups and task forces.

Well, the Big 68th Birthday Sale is now history. We can tell you that we broke all our records for a four week sale. It was a lot of extra work but it was fun too. One of our customers is now the happy owner of the 1972 Dart Swinger, and the $800 Jackpot was not won.

We had a big response to the Ballentine Beer sale. It seems as though everyone remembered the name even though this beer has not been sold locally for years. It just goes to show you what a good name can do for you. We at Schermers Bros. have known this for a long long time.

And while you are shopping the Supermarket be sure and visit the Crystal Room in the Garden Shop. On display you will find the finest selection of Christmas Merchandise in the Area. Many of the items you will not find in other stores. We'll gladly reserve your selection until you are ready to use it.

Would you believe that there are only 36 days left before Christmas? And, of course, Thanksgiving will be here in a flash. We sold a lot of cranberry sauce last week, so people are getting ready. Speaking of Thanksgiving, we really have a lot to be thankful for this year. Getting the store back in 75 days. Having all the wonderful people who are our customers. Having all the fine friends who helped us in our rebuilding. But most of all, living in this great country of ours. With all the turmoil and strife, with all the disunion and bickering, with all the complaining about taxes, bad government, poor medical care etc., WE ARE STILL LIVING IN THE GREATEST COUNTRY ON EARTH..... AND DON'T EVER FORGET IT.

A talk by Mrs. Charles Belt of St. Louis on "Running an Ecological Household" highlighted the annual World Community Day celebration of Church Women United on Friday night at the Mitchell Presbyterian Church.

In keeping with the theme of the day, "Build a New Earth," Mrs. Belt, an active member of two ecological organizations in the St. Louis region, the Coalition for the Environment and the Committee for Environmental Information, emphasized the need to return to the environment those items which people have been removing or destroying, such as leaves, grass clippings and food.

She, along with C. A. "Bud" McMillan of Coordinated Youth Services, stressed the need to recycle various manufactured goods so that they might be reused rather than "buried in a landfill or scattered about the countryside."

McMillan described in detail the recycling center at Nameoli Village Shopping Center, where newspapers, tin cans and glass are collected.

He pointed out that the thousands of pounds of newspapers which have been collected since the center opened have eliminated the need to cut down extra trees to make items such as cardboard boxes and paper containers; the newspapers are recycled to produce these items.

A "rubbish sculpture," a display of items of trash collected from roads and fields in and around the Quad-Cities, was on display at the back of the church.

The musical portion of the program was presented by Mrs. Harold Starr, organist, and Miss Willemena Watts, vocalist. The Rev. W. F. Reipschlag, pastor of the host church, gave the invocation, followed by a welcome by Mrs. Fred Rupp, president of Church Women United.

Mrs. Algie Crawford, chairman of World Community Day, then grouped in appropriate readings, with Mrs. Paul Kratz and Mrs. Paul Gendron assisting her.

The World Community Day celebration offerings of blankets, clothes and money are sent to the Church World Service Organization, which dispenses them to needy people all over the world.

Traditionally, the celebration is held on the first Friday of November by Church Women United groups all over the country for this purpose.

After the services, a coffee hour was held, with refreshments provided by the host church.

Mrs. Lehman Is Circle Hostess

The home of Mrs. Olivia Lehman, 2808 Eldon Ave., was the meeting place of Patience Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church Thursday afternoon. A program of "Thanksgiving" was presented.

Mrs. Ethel Lerch, circle co-leader, presided at the meeting and led a discussion on the circle's participation in the Nov. 19 holiday bazaar and other projects.

Patience Circle members will give the program at the Women's Society of Christian Service's general meeting in December, with Mrs. Clara Storr off in charge.

GC School District

Named in Suit

A suit for $25,000 damages has been filed for a Wilson School student against Granite City School District 9.

The suit charges that Gary W. Summers, 12, the son of Mrs. Dorothy Hancock, was ordered by a teacher to move a piano from a classroom into the hall. The piano fell on the youth, causing severe injuries, the complaint charges.

The suit contains three counts. The first charges the school board with improper maintenance and a lack of custodians or other employees to move the piano.

The second count charges the school board failed to provide supervision while the piano was being moved and knew that moving it could be dangerous.

The third count alleges the teacher repeated orders to the child to move the piano and failed to supervise the task.

The Learning Festival will be open Friday from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.; and Sunday, Nov. 14, from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Materials will be on display in the gymnasium of the school.

Channel 9, Broadcasting in Color, Has Stronger Signal

St. Louis has a new television station. KETC-TV, Channel 9, began its first day of broadcast operations this week upon receiving a new license from the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

The public television station, licensed to the St. Louis Educational Television Commission, was formerly known as simply KETC.

The FCC approved the change in the station name on Oct. 29 at the same time it granted Channel 9 authority to broadcast in color and at a full-signal strength of 316,000 watts from its new Broadcast Center Facilities in South St. Louis County.

Channel 9 started in studios on the Washington University campus with its first transmitter located on St. Louis University property on Sept. 20, 1954. The transmitter was relocated at Boatmen's Bank in 1960.

Closing of that facility on Oct. 29 ended the 17-year history of KETC and started the new history of KETC-TV. The station's old equipment is for sale.

The new facilities triple Channel 9's former output and enable the station to broadcast "Sesame Street" and evening programming from the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) network in color.

Among Channel 9's most popular offerings, now available to this area in color, are "Civilization," "Hollywood Television Theatre," "The Great American Dream Machine" and the British Broadcasting Corporation's "Masterpiece Theatre"

Many non-network educational programs also will be broadcast in color by KETC-TV, and reception will be improved on all programming.

In addition to expanding Channel 9's coverage in the immediate metropolitan area, the full-strength signal from the new facilities will enable cable television companies in the outstate Missouri communities of Mexico, Sedalia, Nevada and Eldon to transmit Channel 9's programming to the people in their service areas.

Financing for the new Broadcast Center was begun five years ago when Channel 9 launched a capital fund drive soliciting support from the business community.

Other finances were provided by individual members of Channel 9, schools participating in Channel 9's school service program, the Arts and Education Council, a $401,000 loan from a consortium of banks, and assorted grants from other sources.

Channel 9 will be mounting another capital fund drive in January 1972 to retire the Broadcast Center debt and convert the studios to color production capability.

Channel 9 is presently engaged in a promotional campaign to alert the community to its new full-power and color broadcasting. Theme of the campaign is "Share a New Vision. Join Channel 9."

SPRINGFIELD — Elimination of duplicated efforts by governmental bodies, particularly involving environmental issues, is the target of two separate but related projects of the Illinois Institute of Environmental Quality.

Larger of the two undertakings is a two-pronged effort, being handled by the University of Illinois center for advanced computation at a total cost of $10,000. The feasibility study, already completed, showed the benefits of the proposal, which has now been partly implemented and has already "saved substantial sums" by avoiding duplication, according to Michael Schneiderman, Institute director.

Many federal, state and local agencies, Schneiderman said, collected a surprising amount and variety of information relevant to environmental decisions, much of which would also be of benefit to other groups. When agencies needing such data do not know it already exists, or do not know how to locate it, either they proceed without it, or waste time and money duplicating it, Schneiderman said.

25th 'Care' Year Marked Here by Sale of Stamps

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

To bring local attention to Care's silver anniversary, a special postage stamp has been put in circulation here.

Care, Inc., packages contributed by Americans aid needy people and the ill and injured throughout the world.

Lions International, as one of the member agencies guiding Care's work, has for more than a decade, through its membership, supported Lions-Care Partnership projects overseas.

The postage stamp calls attention to Care's work in bringing food to needy millions and clean drinking water to millions more, and in aiding schools, workshops and self-help activities.

"Care deserves the honor," a statement by Madison and Venice Lions spokesmen relates.

"We are proud of such an organization reporting in our behalf and to our great credit on the international scene. We take pride as Lions in sharing with others this special recognition."

"Care has been a good job for 25 years. And there is much more to do."

Waterborne Commerce Publication Available

A publication of interest to water transportation interests along the Gulf Coast, on the Mississippi River navigation system, and in the Antilles (Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands) is available for purchase.

The publication, "Waterborne Commerce of the United States Part 2," is the first of a five-part series reflecting 1970 statistics on foreign and domestic movement of commodities at the ports and on the waterways of all areas of the United States.

Each year, waterborne commerce statistics are collected, compiled and published in a five-part series by the Waterborne Commerce Statistics Center, an activity of the Corps of Engineers' Lower Mississippi Valley Division.

Except for Part 5, which contains national summaries, other parts are devoted to specific geographic areas.

In addition to the area covered in Part 2, the Atlantic Coast area is covered in Part 1; the Great Lakes in Part 3; and the Pacific Coast, Alaska and Hawaii in Part 4. Announcement will be made as these other parts become available.

Data for this series are prepared initially for use by the Department of the Army, but are also valuable to other governmental agencies, commercial and shipping concerns, groups and individuals interested in port activities and water transportation.

Part 2, which sells for $1.50, may be purchased from the U. S. Army Engineer District, New Orleans, P. O. Box 60267, New Orleans, La. 70160. Mail orders should include check or money order (in U. S. funds) made payable to the Treasurer of the United States, as government sales agencies are required by law to receive payment in advance for all purchases.
